

The book was found

The Erma Bombeck Collection: If Life Is A Bowl Of Cherries, What Am I Doing In The Pits?, Motherhood, And The Grass Is Always Greener Over The Septic Tank

Synopsis

Three books of timeless wit and heart from celebrated humorist Erma Bombeck! If Life Is a Bowl of Cherries, What Am I Doing in the Pits? is Erma Bombeck's timelessly witty look at the hidden side of married life. Motherhood captures one of the toughest jobs on earth with humor and heart. And The Grass Is Always Greener Over the Septic Tank is Bombeck's take on the unforgiving frontier of American suburbia.

Book Information

File Size: 7925 KB

Print Length: 437 pages

Publisher: Open Road Media (May 21, 2013)

Publication Date: May 21, 2013

Sold by: Amazon Digital Services LLC

Language: English

ASIN: B00CLVB9WO

Text-to-Speech: Enabled

X-Ray: Not Enabled

Word Wise: Enabled

Lending: Not Enabled

Enhanced Typesetting: Enabled

Best Sellers Rank: #62,739 Paid in Kindle Store (See Top 100 Paid in Kindle Store) #39 in Kindle Store > Kindle eBooks > Nonfiction > Parenting & Relationships > Family Relationships > Motherhood #45 in Kindle Store > Kindle eBooks > Humor & Entertainment > Humor > Parenting & Families #95 in Kindle Store > Kindle eBooks > Humor & Entertainment > Humor > Essays

Customer Reviews

Erma Bombeck's work is timeless and hilarious. 5 stars! The people involved in typing this and getting it to Kindle? 0 stars. I am shocked at the number of typos in this book. Did anybody proofread it before it went to print? The terrible editing does a disservice to Erma's wonderful writing and to the Kindle brand for selling it in this condition. I'm sure Erma would have something hilarious to say about it... *Edited to clarify - while the typos are very distracting, the Kindle quality is excellent. It downloaded and is viewable with no issue.

While Erma Bombeck was a brilliant writer, whomever put this kindle book together was a complete idiot. There are numerous editing errors in the first few pages alone. This detracts from the experience. Get your act together and issue an update.

I enjoyed rereading Erma Bombeck. The careless typos showed a rush to get it to the emarket and did a disservice to new fans.

I read each and everyone of her books as they were published beginning with "At Wits End" and although I still have them "somewhere" I haven't read them in many years. This collection is a wonderful look-back at a time when life was clearly very different than now. Her references to "transistor radio" and corded telephones show how very different homes of today are. Having the three books together is nice but I would have preferred that they be in chronological order rather than randomly selected. I think reading Erma that way is most reflective of her views and how they changed as her children got older. Buy it for your Kindle...you'll always have a little humor with you.

I'm not sure how old I was when I stumbled across one of Erma Bombeck's books, The Grass Is Always Greener over the Septic Tank, in a second hand bookstore though I think I was maybe in my mid teens. I hadn't really read anything by a humourist before and I wasn't expecting to find much in a book written by an old (from my perspective), American housewife amusing but I did. In fact I think it was probably the first book that actually made me laugh out loud. After that I kept an eye out for anything else by Erma, at that stage (in the late 1980's) she had published 8 books but they were difficult to find in Australia. Over the years I have managed to collect five of her books, and read 2 others (courtesy the library). The Erma Bombeck Collection includes two of the books I already own - The Grass Is Always Greener over the Septic Tank, and If Life Is a Bowl of Cherries, What Am I Doing in the Pits? and a third I hadn't managed to get a hold of Motherhood: The Second Oldest Profession. It's delightful to discover just how timeless Erma Bombeck's sense of humour is. Despite the generation gap and the seismic changes in society, her domestic commentary is still as relevant as it was 40 years ago. My children regularly ambush me with the need for a costume/cake/working model of a rocket ship the night before it is needed, my husband can never find anything on a shelf in the pantry or fridge without my help and I haven't seen the floor in my teenage daughter's room for years. No matter if you are the mother of toddlers or teenagers, and regardless of whether you are a stay at home mum or work full time, it is easy to relate to Erma's light-hearted diatribes. Hilarious, heartwarming and at times poignant, this is a wonderful collection of three of Erma Bombeck's best, and a thoroughly entertaining read.

I ordered this book before I attended the Erma Bombeck Writers' Workshops. Erma's wit, humor and helpful ideas still delight readers long after her death. She was one special lady, and she has not been forgotten.

I've only read a few pieces by Erma Bombeck before this so I was interested in this collection. I saw a bit of a different side of Erma in a couple of her "stories", but the Erma I had experienced shined through in many of her stories. She makes me laugh and cry. I think a younger audience may not get a lot of what Erma talks about, especially related to the suburbs. Those stories definitely touch an older reader. Several of her stories are memorable and will stay with me for a lifetime. If she were still alive, I think she'd have material on more modern topics and she could go on forever.

I love all of Erma's writing and own all of her books, so I really purchased this just to have a Kindle edition. Her humor comes from her experiences, family, and most of all, her love of life, despite its contradictions.

Download to continue reading...

The Erma Bombeck Collection: If Life Is a Bowl of Cherries, What Am I Doing in the Pits?, Motherhood, and The Grass Is Always Greener Over the Septic Tank If Life Is a Bowl of Cherries, What Am I Doing in the Pits? Isolation Tank: Understanding the Sensory Deprivation Tank and What You Need to Know (Flotation Tank, Meditation, Float Tank, Relaxation, Think Tank, Reduce Stress) Quick & Easy Recipes: Super Bowl Party Recipes: 35 Easy and Delicious Super Bowl Recipes, Appetizers, Dips, and More! (Quick and Easy Cooking Series) Missional Motherhood: The Everyday Ministry of Motherhood in the Grand Plan of God Easy Lawn Care: Learn How to Always have a Picture Perfect Lawn with Green Grass and No Weeds All Year Long... Forever, Erma: Best-Loved Writing From America's Favorite Humorist Wells and Septic Systems 2/E THE GUN AND ITS DEVELOPMENT By W. W. GREENER decorative From Snake Pits to Cash Cows: Politics and Public Institutions in New York The Septic System Owner's Manual Greener Pasture on Your Side of the Fence: Better Farming Voisin Management-Intensive Grazing (4th Edition) Growing Tasty Tropical Plants in Any Home, Anywhere: (like lemons, limes, citrons, grapefruit, kumquats, sunquats, tahitian oranges, barbados cherries, ... pepper, cinnamon, vanilla, and more...) Montana Cherries (The Wildes of Birch Bay) Lesbian Erotica: Fresh Cherries: 11 Steamy First Time Lesbian Sex Stories (Lesbian Books) Starry-Eyed: Seeing Grace in the Unfolding Constellation of Life and Motherhood Journal Your Life's Journey: Grass and Poppy, Lined Journal, 6 x 9, 100 Pages Doing

It Over (A Most Likely To Novel Book 1) Being Church, Doing Life: Creating Gospel Communities
Where Life Happens 18 EASY RECIPES FOR SUPER BOWL, TAILGATE AND POT LUCK PARTIES: Guaranteed fast and easy tried and true crowd pleasing favorites that are sure to impress! (Recipes for Everyday Living)

Dmca